Prologue

As our high-school life nears its close, we look forward to the future. The past four years have been happy ones. The time which elapsed between that first bell which rang in September of 1952 and that last bell which rang in June of 1956 is filled with permanent memories of patient, understanding teachers, deans, and masters, exciting events, and priceless friendships.

Therefore, we, the Class of 1956, have gathered all these precious memories together in this, our yearbook. It will always be a pleasant reminder of the happiest days of our lives.

MARY MAGNO

Dedication

We dedicate our yearbook to Thomas Long Bramhall who joined the faculty of our school in 1910, the year in which the English and Latin Schools merged, and eventually became assistant headmaster and friend of the many students under his jurisdiction. Mr. Bramhall was devoted to our interests; he understood our problems, and answered our questions. Moreover, "Brammy" taught us by his example and advice how to achieve happiness and security. This lesson is and always will be among the most valuable that we shall learn. We express, then, in dedicating this yearbook to the spirit of this warm and scholarly man, the deep and sincere love that we and the thousands of students before us feel for him.

Tribute

At the very top of a long list of the many people who contributed to make the past four years successful and happy for us is our headmaster, Mr. John J. Sheehan. To this great leader, intelligent guide, and friendly master, we proudly pay tribute. This picture will serve as a pleasant reminder of him and his tireless efforts to aid us in any way and at any time.

For Whom The BELLS Toll..

The SENIORS (1956)

DAVID A. KINGSBURY

Bells symbolize many of our most precious memories. Dinner bells, summoning children in from play, recall the pleasures of childhood; school bells remind us of the happy, carefree days of early youth; clocks' chimes conjure up mental images of joyous waiting for special events, friends or loved ones; church bells speak of the significance of religion in our lives. Therefore, we have chosen bells as the theme of our yearbook. This book, we hope, will always be a melodious carillon, ringing out clear, pleasant memories of our high-school life.

Class Will

Corinne Robinson

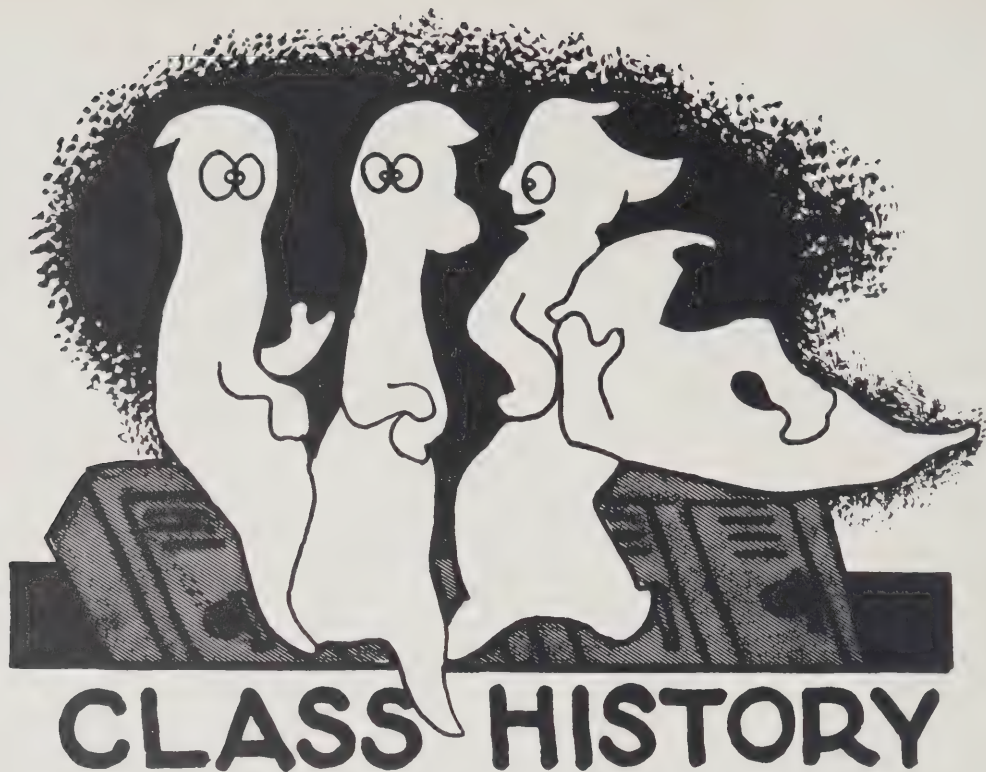

In this, the Era of Good Feeling, we, the class of 1956, after spending four wonderful years at C. H. L. S. and after having been duly harassed and oppressed, do, with the shattered remnants of a sound mind (?) and healthy body, solemnly draw up and declare this document, which we believe to be fit and proper, our last Will and Testament:

- I To Mr. Sheehan, we leave a squad of police officers to stop all traffic on the two bells signal.
- II To Miss Lynch, we leave an economy size bookcase for her innumerable catalogs.
- III To the incoming senior class, we leave the third floor with all its glory.
- IV To the future classes of C.H.L.S., we leave chimes instead of bells to awaken the students gently after study periods.
- V To the faculty, we leave all our gratitude for the kindness and patience they have shown toward us.
- VI To Miss Dunphy, we leave a life-size portrait of her "favorite" piano player, Liberace.
- VII To the future classes of Mr. Higgins, we leave a constitution minus the if's and but's.
- VIII To Mr. Ronan, we leave a decimal system to help keep his belongings in order.
- IX To the Home Nursing classes, we leave a life-like dummy (instead of the student) for practice in making a bed with the patient in it.
- X To the shorthand students, we leave a decoding system for reading their homework in class.
- XI To the student drivers, we leave the poor pedestrians who forgot to renew their life insurance policies.
- XII To the teachers who keep order in the corridors between periods, we leave a medal for bravery beyond the call of duty.
- XIII To whomever is standing in the doorway when the lunch bell rings, we leave a word of advice, DON'T !!!
- XIV To the gym teachers, we leave a dumb waiter for carrying their lunches.
- XV To the football team, we leave an easier schedule. — Someday. —
- XVI To Mr. Bridey, we leave all the good luck and best wishes he deserves in his new position as Assistant Headmaster.
- XVII To the track team, we leave more fans to attend their meets.
- XVIII To the cheerleaders, we leave knee socks and mittens for use at the snowy football games.
- XIX To the drill team, we leave the hopes of getting new uniforms.
- XX To the hockey team, we leave the multitude of broken hockey sticks.

(as related by the four ghosts of the Class of 1956)

Why, hello! Glad you happened along; we're just having a little debate on which was the biggest and the 'best-est' year at CHLS for the Class of 1956. Why, don't you decide!

BEWITCHED, BOTHERED, AND BEWILDERED

Hi, there. My name's Harry. My story begins back in the fall of '52, when girls and boys came from all parts of the city, filling the corridors of Cambridge High and Latin School with noise and confusion. In no time at all, however, I was really proud to be a part of this class, for their noise soon became school spirit and enthusiasm. And, the members were so good natured that I just couldn't help liking them! The girls took a "grin and bear it" attitude to the shenanigans of the GAA initiation, and, as a reward, were admitted to the GAA formal in November. Soon we began proving ourselves in the classrooms, in sports, and in the clubs open to freshmen. A few of us were even accepted into the casts of the Drama Club's annual productions, the Christmas pageant, and Curtain Time! Our class had arrived just in time for some of us to appear in the last production of the Frolics and to bid farewell to the GAA. We were the first class to vary the color of the girls' gym suits! Finally, the KB's showing of "Pygmalion," the KB Informal at the Cambridge Boat Club, and the GAA barn dance rounded out this really active year. Our proudest moment came, perhaps, when one of our own classmates defeated her talented upperclass rivals in the Prize Speaking Contest!

No, we weren't fazed by the blaring "voice boxes," or by the numerous proclamations they emitted (well, not too much!). We even managed to retain our composure while cheering our new headmaster, Mr. Sheehan, and the new President of the United States. After all, weren't we now high school students?

Yours,

HARRY

A LITTLE BIT INDEPENDENT

Aw, that's the trouble with Harry. He's forever bragging. If anyone has the right to boast, I certainly have! Wasn't it the year 1953-54 that our CHLS Student Council was started? You can be sure we sophomores had two representatives on it! This was a big year for our baseball team, too, for it won the Suburban League Championship. Need I mention that the Cecil B. Derry Chapter of the National Honor Society was founded at Latin in 1953-54?

By now we had become a little less impressed with the seniors and a little more impressed with ourselves and with our newly arrived sense of independence. It was our turn to lead the insignificant freshmen astray, and to begin to take a really active part in the school organizations. In addition to the Council, our sophomore class was well represented on the cheerleading squad, on the Drill Team, which did a great job marching at the halves, in the rapidly growing band, in varsity sports, in solo class, and on the Review literary staff. We knew all about our school (or so we thought); we didn't need to consult any upperclassmen! Several of us even became confident enough to attend the yearbook dances, along with the GAA Prom and the KB Informal. A number were honored by being asked to usher on Career Day, a day reserved for juniors and seniors, only. It was in this year that the outside world began to hear of the Latinites, when Bob Clayton of WHDH broadcasted a popular records poll taken at school, and had some of the students as his guests on the program. It's not the Charleston that will remind us of the happy days, but that real gone jump, the Bunny Hop!

We were actually just a little bit independent — but we loved it!

Sincerely,

CLYM

THE GREAT PRETENDERS

Personally, I think the class was a little too independent! After all, it wasn't until we were juniors that we really began proving ourselves responsible. In 1954-55 we elected our first class officers.

President .....Warren Sheehan
Vice President .....Dorothy McTiernan
Secretary .....Nancy McMahon
Treasurer .....Fred Dehmer

Appropriately enough, the Prom Committee was headed by its only male member, Nicky Demos. He and his colleagues, Mary Picicchi, Nancy Petralia, Ann Barrett, and Arlene Thompson, planned an outstanding Junior Prom at the Hotel Commander in April . . . but that's getting ahead of my story! During the course of the year, our junior boys fared well in the various sports, beating Rindge for the third year in a row in our annual Thanksgiving Day football game, and going on to win a place in the Tech Tourney in basketball.

Many of our important decisions for senior year were made while we were still juniors; the Ring Committee chose Josten's and the Picture Committee decided on Loring's. Ground work was begun on our new gymnasium this year, and 'simultaneously' the basic outline for the new Junior Kiwanis Club, the Keys, was laid. The year was spotted with traditional as well as with new events. The KB Informal presented to us the opportunity of seeing the new and beautiful, ultra-modern addition to the YWCA, for those who had not yet viewed it. Queen and King of the GAA Prom, held at the Commander, were pert Arlene Thompson and date, Joe Bellis-simo. One of the plays presented at Curtain Time, "The Taming of the Shrew," by Will Shakespeare, went on to win a place in the state finals of Drama Festival held at John Hancock Hall. And Miss Hartigan did her usual impeccable job in presenting the Christmas Tableaux. One of the most novel events of the social season was the KB Pizza-Coke party, held in our own girls' cafeteria, and emceed by our own classmates! All this brings us back to where we started . . . with the Junior Prom, the queen of which was lovely Jacqueline Vincent. The smooth strains of Steve Scotti's orchestra made for an evening of smooth sailing.

How about that, Eustacia!

Very truly yours,

ELSA

THE HIGH AND THE MIGHTY

And we had a right to be high and mighty! Even Elsa, "the Ghostess with the Most-est," envied the supreme position we had attained as seniors, looked up to by approximately twelve hundred underclassmen. We tried our very best to fulfill this status and the expectations of our new dean, Miss Lynch, and our new assistant headmaster, Mr. Bridey. We distinguished ourselves by having the largest National Honor Society membership in the three years of its existence. The Key Club came into full swing, along with the newly formed Future Nurses Club, the CAPS. Everything happened at once; this was probably due to the delay in starting our school year, which was effected by the tragic polio epidemic. By November, we were busy having pictures taken, filling out applications, arranging interviews, and generally giving a great deal of thought to our future plans. One thing followed another, until we found ourselves in a whirl. For the second year in a row, our football and basketball teams performed the double feat of beating Rindge, and of playing in the Tech Tourney. Although we faced a few disappointments, such as the absence of the Christmas pageant, due to Miss Hartigan's illness, and the GAA Prom, and eating lunch last recess, these were counteracted by the KB Informal, by a highly enjoyable Curtain Time, and the presentation of a hilarious Irish Comedy, "Spreading the News," produced by Mr. Guest. As for waiting until after twelve to eat (a result of the new six-period program!), each of us was clever enough to find his own solution to that problem. Soon we arrived at election time once again. The delighted winners were:

President .....Fred Dehmer
 Vice President .....Ernest Lowe
 Secretary .....Ann Barrett
 Treasurer .....Peter Scantilides
 Senior Reception Committee
     Norma Regillo, Chairman
     Mary Piciocchi
     Gail Hill
     Arlene Thompson
     Dorothy McTiernan

Two more elections followed shortly afterward: the DAR Good Citizenship Award, won by Nancy McMahon, President of the Student Council, and the Senior Popularity Poll, which set many a voter thinking! The styles this year were marked by the absence of the "District Attorney" haircuts, and the increasing popularity of the Brown Watch plaid. "Rock and Roll" was still the rage, and proved itself so at the yearbook dances. Adding to the prestige of the school, the Drill Team did a wonderful job marching for the Retarded Children at Waltham, and the KB did their usual fine job working at the Blood Bank at Harvard.

Once we had gone through the ordeal of January Aptitudes, we began to relax a little, and rest on our laurels; but not for long. We soon began preparation for the March exams, and the ever 'important Class Day and Graduation Night. As we looked forward with regret to our departure, we anticipated with excitement the arrival of our last big social event, the Senior Prom. The light-heartedness and gaiety of our senior year was marred only by the death of our beloved Mr. Bramhall; we only regret that we did not have the time to know him better.

As ever,

EUSTACIA

CONCLUSION

So end our stories! Whatever your decision, we hope that you will remember all your years at CHLS.

We certainly have enjoyed being the ghosts of your class, and we hope that your future life will be as successful as your life at Latin has been.

And now, we, Harry, Clym, Elsa, and Eustacia, must bid you "fond adieu" — but not for long; for we are looking forward to seeing you at the first reunion!

As the church chimes toll eight o'clock, we find Joe Bongo, a bell-repairman, happily hustling to his humble shop at the poorer edge of town. Upon entering this shop, he glances at his agenda for the day. Suddenly a name on the list seems to "strike a bell." Eloise Garland was a senior at C.H.L.S. when he was a lowly freshman there, 14 years ago. Laughing to himself as he remembers how he looked up to the seniors when he was a lower classman, he excitedly anticipates seeing her again. When he arrives at her home to repair the dinner chimes, he finds Winifred Flaherty, Barbara Karlson, Lois Smith, Janice Green, Joanne Maggio and Pat Hansen, some of the socially prominent members of the Friday Afternoon Tea Club, (which, by the way, meets every Thursday morning) nonchalantly sipping tea and watching T.V. "Breakfast with Thistle," starring Lester "dunkin doughnuts" Thistle, and sponsored by Lorraine Tracey's Cartridge Farm Bread, is now on. The main attraction this morning is Jackie Ryan, the noted dance instructor, who will talk on his latest book, "My Experiences on the Dance Floor." An added feature today will be Marcia Kaufman, snake charmer to his Royal Highness of India, who will perform some amazing feats. When Eloise switches channels, Margaret Walsh, a famous news commentator, excitedly reports on the appointment of Anna FitzGerald, Warden, and Dottie Grossman, Assistant Warden, in the beautiful new Women's Prison. Jenny Hichun, matron of cell block 55, Eva Powers, matron of cell block 56, Nancy Barrett, matron of cell block 57, and Evelyn Adams, matron of cell block 58, are central figures in the new prison. Flash! President Jim Kennedy has just issued an ultimatum to Pete Scantiledes, Secretary of the Treasury, to increase the taxes 99.44%.

A little bit overwhelmed at seeing so many seniors, Joe Bongo finishes his job, looks at his list, and goes to his next stop, Jon Halberstadt's "Three Ring Circus." He walks through the door, into the middle of a dress rehearsal; Artemis Scalleris and Lillian Sullivan, "The Jugglettes," are practicing their unique and difficult routine of flipping peas. On the flying trapeze, Zara Sessman is hurling Paul Giunta to the opposite bar, while Charlene Bragden is ready to catch Ian Lindsey as he comes swinging toward her. Down below, in the right hand ring, Lillian Hamilton, Carol McDougall, Roderick Murphy, and Emmanuel Mello, the featured clowns of the circus are going through their comical antics.

From the happy atmosphere of the circus, our repairman travels to Frankie Villirilli's "Very Vacant Funeral Home," where Loretta Cormier, chief embalmer, is discussing her next move with Guy Quinlan, better known as Quigley, the Olympic Chess Champion. As Joe Bongo is leaving, Joyce Robinson, Frankie's secretary, asks him to sign the guest book.

His next stop is at the barber shop, where Tony Spirito is giving Lawrence Boucher a haircut, while Noreen Kendrick is pedicuring his toenails.

Then, on to Catherine Trio's Charm School, where Norma Regillo and Jackie Vincent are instructing a class in modeling. Liz Dickson, a noted fashion consultant, is lecturing on "Harvard Scarfs." Elaine Miller and Kathy Glavin, "The Toneless Twosome," are teaching Daiva Mongirdas and Lucy Magliozzi (Mrs. Herbie Swartz) how to reach low C.

On his way to his next appointment he notices Arthur Lerman sweeping the rubbish from the street into Nickie Giatrelis's dust pan. Further down the street, our pal, Joe, does some window shopping at a book store. On display are "How to Build a Hot Rod in Six Easy Lessons" by Arlene Thompson, "I Am An All American" by Robert Maciel, "Gone With the Breeze" by John "Moe" Curran, and "The Problems of an Ant" by Ralph Talarico.

Finally he reaches his destination, "Happy Helen Hunt's Hilarious Hospital," where Mike Goldman is chief doctor. Dr. Emmie Zahka, M.D.H.W.L., (Incidentally, she is married and has 12 children) is chief obstetrician. Chief surgeon in our competent hospital is Betty Odell, H.D.F.O. As Mr. Bongo walks down the corridor, he bumps into Catherine Nee, Faith McLaughlin, Margaret Nicolle, Angela Spinosa, and Barbara Turner, nurses in this famous medical center. The girls are rushing to assist the noted psychiatrists, Eileen English and Brenda Farr, on an important case. The nurses hurry off and Joe hurries on to the kitchen where he meets Harry Ward, the ptomaine chef, and his deadly dietitians, Joan Cross, Emily Petroulias, and Deanne Kenney. Some of the patients are Ralph Chesney, head of the M.T.A., who is being treated for a broken fingernail which he received when he was run over by a bus; Joan Manzelli, an auto car racer who failed to make the last mile home; Ann Anderson, roller derby star; and Irene Papaforti, toe dancer. As Mr. Bongo checks out of the office, he notices Mildred Brewer and Pat Joyce, two of the medical secretaries. Then he walks by receptionist Gladys Chojnowski, on his way to receive his pay from cashier Phyllis Tranni.

Now on to Stanley Straube's "State Star Struck Stage Show," where Romeo and Juliet is being presented with an all male cast starring G. Stewart Hovanian and Francis Giovannangelo. To offset the all male cast, Stan has Bobbie Johnson's "All Girl Band," featuring Thelma Brooks, clarinetist, Ida Tenney, saxophonist, Diane Buckley, trumpet player and Mary Piciocchi, pianist. Hanging from one of the lights on the marquee, chief electrician Joe Lefebvre is screaming for help.

Our hard working repairman's next call is to Santino Moise's "Odd Jobs Employment Agency" where he is to fix a cowbell for Dave Salto, noted hog caller. Here Joe finds Ruthie Conlin who is trying to hitch a ride to Alaska to sell ice; Jean Munroe, ex-horse trainer to Arthur Godfrey; Jean D'Agostino, Spanish interpreter; Jean Robinson, lady bull fighter; and Junior Sheehan, man bull fighter; Ann Stack, fish feeder; Fred Dehmer, ex-manager to a movie queen; Winston Lee, linotype operator for a Chinese newspaper; Anthony Penna, pencil sharpener for prominent business man James Smith; Nancy Boyajian, the 20th century Sherlock Holmes; George Kapsambellis, ex-Met. Opera singer; Stan Johnson, professional bird watcher; and John Harkins, croquet teacher. As Joe leaves, he sees Dave Kingsbury drawing doodles in a dark corner.

As he enters "Bobby Burns' Brainy School," where he is going to repair the recess bell, he notices John Langlois, painting the school fence. In the office he sees secretaries Hazel Gill and Karen Moore, talking to Headmaster Charles Edward Sullivan and truant officer Richard Blood. Not wanting to disturb them, our considerate repair man hurries by some classrooms where he sees Dotty McTiernan giving yo-yo lessons; Fred MacLeod, prehistoric teacher; Manuel Canario, Spanish VI teacher; Bessie Stathopoulos, Greek IX teacher; Barbara Mills, law teacher; Ann Savioli, teacher of the anatomy of a crayfish; Carol Lavin, expert on dinosaurs; and Carolyn Ostrand, instructor of toe-painting. Further on Joe notices Jimmy Coady, former world fly-weight champion, now coach of the boxing team; John Corcoran, track coach; Margaret Spencer, golf coach; and Beverly Holland, calisthenics instructor. On his way out, he meets Theresa Springer, who is checking lockers.

Walking merrily down the street, he stops at Carolyn Bell's newsstand and buys "The Daily Mirror." He reads that Vice-President Jimmy Vears, Senator Emily Bonina, and South Boston Congresswoman Mary Ryan are taking a good-will trip behind the "Tin Foil Curtain." On the 59th page there is an article concerning the famous Hollywood tailor, Larry Scotti, who has just created a 36-button roll suit and one about Nanci McMahon, the newly-elected President of the Pinky Lee Fan Club. In the pictorial section, Joe sees Miss America, Grace Crockett, and Mr. America, Billy McKenzie, posing with Hollywood movie queens, Jeanne Shidders and Maureen Walsh. The society section gives an account of the latest party of post-debs Helen Skirus, Mary Pitts, Jean Chamberland, Barbara Stockwell, and Jeannette Mahoney. Entertainment was provided by Annette Evangelista, comedienne; Nancy Winn, a tap dancer; Eugene Fortini, an accordionist; Janice Gardner and Ann Isenstadt, monologuists; and Pat Kelley, Mistress of Ceremonies. In the comic section, Joe noticed a new strip, "Atlas and his World" by Paul Lyons, and a revival of an old favorite, "Nancy Andrews' Other Husband" by Al Rogers.

Now Joe wanders off to a gym to fix the timing "gong." Today is exhibition day. In one corner we have the famous lady wrestling team, Pat Stevens and Carol Metivier, and in the other corner, an equally famous team, Dorothy DeFiore and Mary Marcucci. The referees are Fred Buckley and Carol Thompson. At ringside we find timekeeper Joe Silva, who is also keeping time for a boxing bout between Robert Lavey and Richard Boudreau. In a dark corner, Pat Gillingham, the gypsy prophet, is telling Manuel Costa, a wrestler, Larry McLaughlin, a weight lifter, and Joe Roman, a boxer, the outcome of their next matches. John Ianelli is also sitting at ringside, broadcasting the exciting events. Paul Schaub and Tommy Larkin are running around taking bets on the outcome of Mark Cabral's next bout. In a far corner, Robert Gardner and Mike Stack are industriously demonstrating the fine art of ping pong to Janice Kaminsky, the Range Rider's secretary; Linda Fulmore, a retired WAC colonel; Dorothy Bellevue, a woman bus driver; Joe Machado, a matchbook salesman; Joe Colannino, a cotton picker from the hills of Tennessee, and John Boyd, Donald Parker, Frankie Lynch, and Richard Snow, men about town.

Out in the open again, our pal, Joe, stops to watch a political rally in full swing. Joan Solberg and Gerry Mahoney are running for school committee. Praising their high qualities, are Jane Knapik, Charles Peter Sullivan, Mary George, and Sally McManus. Around the platform are posters extolling these candidates: Dorothy Steele for mayor, and Mary Healy, Trudy Jarvis, and Betty Dobrisky for city council. Mary Magno, Mary Reagan, John Battista, and Donnie Caroli, policewomen and policemen, are trying in vain to control the crowd. Slyly mixing through the mob are private detectives Barbara Benoit, Barbara Noonan, Ronald Harding, and Henry Snell. Taking pictures of the rally are crack photographers Gunter Vilbig and Martha Pearson.

The twelve o'clock gong reminds Joe that it is lunchtime, so he goes to his favorite restaurant, Nancy Petralia's Pastromi Paradiso. He is greeted at the door by the receptionist, Anne Yore, and managers Peter Bacchus and Louie Photopoulos. As he walks to a table, Joe sees Marilyn Christo serving one of Paul Heggerty's famous dishes, Dutch Apple Cake. Soon after he sits down, two bungling busboys, Mike Tierney and Jeff Linehan, arrive balancing trays of milk to take Joe's order. He orders a hot dog and Mike and Jeff call his order in to chefs Grace Anderson, Janice Vasseur and Beverly Potaro. While munching the frankfurter, he sees three members of Carol Smith's office staff: Jan Mangano, a basket emptier; Betty Butt, a pencil sharpener; and Lois Porter, time clock puncher. At another table were Brenda Isen, an ironer in Robert Conneaney's Sloppy Service Laundry; Marion Nigro, foreign trade secretary; and Charlene Johnson, a nurse for the noted Dr. Bones. Joe finally finishes a leisurely lunch and pays his bill to Lorraine Capaviella, the cashier. Walking out through the swinging doors, he meets Marilyn Ernst, star of the Ice Capades, and William Elbery, Boston Ruins' great hockey star.

As he reaches the sidewalk, he sees hot rods whizzing by. The drivers are Harold Parker and David Correia. Two policewomen, Maureen Ahearn and Maureen Casey are tailing them on motorcycles. Walking to his next assignment, he sees Ernie Lowe, an organ grinder, playing to a large crowd and Stephanie McCarthy collecting pennies for him. Among the listeners are Richard Lyons and John Wells, officers in the Marine Reserves; Ann Barrett and Jean Smith, models for toothpaste commercials; Francis Bibeau and John Keaveney, sewer repairmen; James Cooper, a cowboy; Dotty Scott, a cowgirl; and Simone Page and Kathleen Phaneuf, jewelry designers.

Finally making his way through the throng, Joe hurries to his next appointment, Sophie Manetas' Manufacturer of Baby Products. As he walks through the production room, he sees Norma Souza knitting booties; Connie Speros sewing bibs; and Robert Conneaney, painting bunnies on babies' cribs. Carol Ahlberg is making teething rings; James McLaughlin is manufacturing cribs; and Pamela Bernadini is child psychologist. He passes Ralph Giarrantana, the foreman, and reaches the next room where Julia Callahan is bottling baby lotion under the careful supervision of chemist John Connor; Ann Nee and Joyce Spooner are making unbreakable plastic safety pins; Thomas Salmon and Donald Jedrey are folding blankets; and Paul Mullen and Paul MacGillivray are sterilizing bottles near Jeannie Gray who is designing christening clothes. Reaching the executive offices, he is greeted by receptionist Carol Costa, who tells him to see general manager Brian Wilkin, who is in conference. Secretary Barbara Riberio directs Joe into the meeting room where he is confronted by Ronald Craigie, talking a blue streak into a dictaphone. Sitting around the table are executives Ella Elliot, Michael Scannell, Rosalie Valcour, and Josephine Santino, with their religious advisers, John Cronin, Lorraine Hector, Carolyn Tyler, and Laura Bulkowski. Brian instructs Joe to fix the bell on the factory clock; glad to have his job clear, Joe takes care of the bell's tongue which was coated with rust, and goes to his next client, Walter Penney, an auctioneer.

He arrives in time to see Camelia Greenhalgh buy a dozen tanned hides; Ralph Sennott, a slightly used chauffeur's uniform; Annette Nickerson, a candelabra; Alton Aronson, a bushel of potato chips; Dolores Newton, an army mule and Sybil Gaudet, a Muskrat Ramble. Joe rushes up to fix Walter's bell, and, after this is accomplished, Walter sells a bird's brass bath tub to Roberta Green, an old fossil to Catherine Nee, some of Corrine Robinson's kisses to Al Velucci, two empty coke bottles to Elaine Wyman, and a gross of deflated basketballs to Stephanie Cramer.

"Pat Sweeney's Subversive Scientific Students' Studio" is Joe's next stop. He is greeted by Peter Michaels, director of the museum, who tells him that Arnold Pinsley, noted fossil, is lecturing on the subject, "Be Kind to Fossils Week." On his way up in the elevator he is told by Mabel Maynard, the elevator operator, about Nickie Demos, manager of the new Greek Cigar Collection. Getting off the elevator, he is almost trampled by Gail Hill, Mabel Burke, Nancy Robinson, and Loretta Cronin, honorary members of the Mickey Mouse Club. His destination is the planetarium, where Arlene Brewington is discussing Hollywood stars Marcia Lovell, Margaret Rawlings, Helen Skirus, Carol Connors, Anne Luther, and Carol Homer. Next, he goes to Agnes Killilea's Taxidermist Heaven, where Claire Patten is shaving her pet raccoon, and Francis Gobiell and Mary Medeiros are cleaning out the owl cages. On his way out, he stops at the Egyptian Room, where he sees mummies dug up by noted archaeologists Ruth Barrell and Bertha Burrell. Robert How is kneeling trying to decode some hieroglyphics copied by Joyce Crane and Chris Corcoran. Looking longingly at some ancient necklaces are models Regina Visminas, Judith Howard, Phyllis Anciello, Jeannette Pickett, and Eleanor Veilleux.

When he reaches the sidewalk, our happy repairman finds that his next employer, John Dineen, general manager of Fred McLeod's Down-Town Dairy Farm, has sent Daisy the Cow as a means of transportation. Arriving at the farm, he observes James Welch's Car Hop Service, consisting of Kathryn Wheelock, Nancy Egan, Theresa Naro, Diane Michener, Jean Harney, and Alice D'Ambrosia.

Meanwhile, back in the cellar, Jeannette Sevigney and Arlene Ferguson are churning butter; Mary Finn and Barbara Tennis are curdling milk; Pat Thiel and Diane McLaughlin are punching holes in Swiss Cheese; Colette Bolger and Ellen Fitzgibbons are stirring yogurt; and Ruth Adams and Betty Calvert are skimming milk. After fixing Clara's bell, he walks through the yard and nearly trips over Joseph Sullivan, who is feeding chickens; he sees Vivian Campbell and Germaine Johnson collecting eggs near the chicken wire fence which Lois Spindler and Ann McLaughlin are repairing because it was torn down by Nancy Lavin, a dairy maid, who was chasing Joan Jenkin's cow which was chasing Jerome Yanow.

Joe hitches a ride with Ann Monteiro, driver of the dairy truck, to Barbara Bellis' Dizzy Department Store. He stops at Barbara Mottollo's necktie counter, and notices Connie Layne tying Irene McMahon's neck. Sick of watching this gruesome display, he moves on to the next counter where Bobby Laukonis is exhibiting the art of pincurling a D. A. to Margaret Sullivan, jockey; Billy Hogan, golfer; Celeste Carreiro, silverware polisher; Jean Hawkins, stock broker; Janet Merriman, Pepsi Cola model; Sally Ann Cotter, hair brusher; and William Reardon, floorwalker. Riding up the escalator, he is jounced by scurrying sales searcher, Carol Mangano. On the 2nd floor, in the Davy Crockett section, Verna MacKenzie is wrestling bears for Catherine O'Toole and Mary Iozzo, talent scouts for Edward Flaherty's Family Hour. On his way to the 5th floor firebell, he passes the complaint department where Anita Simeone and Claudia Smith, airline hostesses, are bemoaning the price of cheese in Italy to Claire Saulnier and Nadine Wyche. Going through the antique department on the 4th floor, he sees Naomi Moore and Carol Staffieri polishing plastic dish-racks. In the shoe department Roberta Jack and Kathleen McKenna, famous toe dancers, are looking for ballet slippers with the aid of Claire Scanlon and Mary Stauff, insurance saleswomen. After repairing the 5th floor bell, he takes the elevator down, and, since his day's work is now finished, he does some shopping of his own. Our extravagant repairman buys a diamond studded bell from Pat White. With this bit of foolishness, we leave Joe Bongo, after accompanying him through a day in which he renewed many old acquaintances.

The Review

The REVIEW, this year as always, enjoyed a successful season. Although the staff was larger than usual and consisted of many underclassmen as well as Seniors, all of the members co-operated to publish four fine editions of the paper. The continuing success of the REVIEW is due largely, to the able, ever available advice and assistance of our three faculty advisors, Miss Kelley, literary advisor, Mr. Higgins, business advisor, and Mr. Santoro, art advisor. To these three and to the entire student body, we express our thanks for their aid and encouragement without which the publishing of the REVIEW would not have been possible.

Student Council

The year 1955-56 marked the third year that the Student Council has been in existence. Since its founding, the Council has already achieved a great deal through the industry and initiative of its members.

The Council along with their officers: President, Nancy McMahon; Vice-President, George Daveris;

Secretaries, Arlene Thompson and Ellen Coady, and Treasurer, Dorothy McTiernan would like to thank their advisor, Mr. Toomey, for giving so generously of his advice and time this past year.

The Council has a great deal of potential ability which we feel will be used to attain even greater ends in the future.

K. B.

The K. B. got off to a flying start by initiating 38 Juniors into the club. Shortly afterwards, the members became very busily engaged in helping the Red Cross with its seasonal Bloodmobile at Harvard University. They donated a total of 83 volunteer hours by typing and working in the Canteen.

After finishing the Bloodmobile, we began to plan for our annual Informal. On January 20, 1956, the long-awaited dance took place at the Y. W. C. A.

The Informal was a huge social as well as a financial success with Steve Scott's Band providing the music and our own Elizabeth Johnson and Lucille Magliozzi doing the singing.

Our officers: President, Nancy Andrews; Secretary, Patricia Gillingham; and Treasurer, Emilene Zahka, along with all the members, express their sincerest appreciation to our advisors, Miss Noonan and Miss Mahar, for all the help they gave us.

Girls' Athletic Association

This has been a prosperous and enterprising year for the G. A. A. This year's officers were: President, Stephanie Cramer; Vice-President, Jean Caruso; Secretary, Nancy Winn; and Executive Board: Ann Savioli, Carol Smith, Betty Fitzmaurice, and Susan Flamand.

The Freshman Initiation, held in October, set the season's activities off to a rollicking start; the November Record Hop was both a social and financial success. As always, Mr. Linskey in his role as Santa Claus contributed greatly to the amusement at the Christmas Party. A roller-skating party at the Wal-lex added to the fun and entertainment of all the members of the club. The season terminated with the annual May Banquet at which the seniors were awarded charms for their active participation in sports throughout the years.

All the officers and members of the G. A. A. join in thanking Miss Hyde and Miss George for their competent assistance during the season.

Dramatic Club

Under the capable direction of Miss Hartigan and Mr. Guest, the members of the Dramatic Club have had a busy and successful year. In October, the first meeting was held and the officers elected were: President, Lucille Magliozi; Vice-President, Lester Thistle; Secretary, Jocelyn Flammand, and Treasurer, Alfred Vellucci. Betty Fitzmaurice, William Brunelle, Beth Fitzgerald, Richard Slavinsky, and Ann Ferrick composed the executive board. As part of the Veterans' Day Program, the club presented "The Story of American Freedom." Our presentation of "Curtain Time" in the form of three one-act plays was a success as usual.

At the annual Christmas party, everyone had a wonderful time including the policeman! One of the highlights of the year was a presentation of Lady Gregory's "Spreading the News."

In February, members of the club formed a theatre party, and enjoyed a performance of "Someone Waiting" at the Plymouth Theatre. For the Washington-Lincoln Assembly Program, the club presented "The Lawyer of Springfield." We gave a special version of "Peter Pan" which was Cambridge Latin's contribution to Emerson's High School Day. The Massachusetts Drama Festival, followed by the New England Drama Festival, were outstanding events of the year.

The solemn Flag Day and Memorial Day exercises impressed both students and guests.

The officers and members of the Dramatic Club all wish to thank Miss Hartigan and Mr. Guest for their invaluable aid and guidance.

Glee Club

The Glee Club has once again experienced an enjoyable and successful year with the assistance of our Director, Mr. Dominic Amoroso.

This music club consists of Mixed Glee, Girls' Choir, Girls' Glee, and Freshman Glee.

The melodious singing of the Glee Club has provided a background of music, fittingly arranged by our director, for the solemn Armistice Day Program.

In November, the Glee Club was enthusiastically received by everyone at a Hit Parade Assembly. A collection of currently popular tunes were sung by our talented soloists and the mass Glee Club.

The beautiful custom of caroling of the choir in the corridors, presented to the students and faculty during the Christmas Season, was once again a big success.

In March, a Concert was planned, featuring light classics and old standards.

We are sure that the wonderful, pleasing reputation of this club, which has been gained throughout the years by the hard work and co-operation of everyone connected with it, will always be maintained. We take great pride in this club and would like to express our deepest appreciation to all who helped make it the big success it is.

Junior Red Cross

Throughout the past school year, the Junior Red Cross High School Council has participated in numerous activities.

With the aid of Miss Ward, our teacher-sponsor, the students solicited enrollment money for the National Children's Fund. Part of this money goes toward the Junior Red Cross High School magazine, "Journal." The rest goes toward funds for needy children all over the world.

In order to make life in the hospitals more comfortable and happy for the veterans, the representatives collected magazines and ashtrays. The art department made wall murals and tray mats.

At Christmas time, toys were collected to fill gift boxes for children here at home, whose parents were not able to provide them with these luxuries.

This year's council has been one of the best with which to work. I hope they continue to do the wonderful things they have always done for children at home and abroad.

Chess Club      Projection Club

Because the Chess Club was unable to participate in league competitions this year, its activities were limited to practice matches with Arlington and Rindge. Miss Mahar was faculty advisor; Guy Quinlan served as secretary.

GUY QUINLAN

The Projection Club, which is under the supervision and direction of Mr. H. Clayton Haley, is a division of the city's audio-visual department.

The club operates six periods a day throughout the school year. The main function of the club is to assist the teachers and students in their respective subjects by the projection of educational films, which are distributed by different organizations in the country. The boys in the club learn how to operate the wire and tape recorders and lantern slides. The club functions at all school assemblies.

All equipment needed for the meetings is entrusted to the senior members. Minor repairs on all equipment are also made by the boys.

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors may join the club which, at present, consists of eighteen members.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

The officers of the French Club for this year were: President, Marcia Kaufman; Vice President, Kathleen Glavin; Secretary, Mary Piciocchi; and Treasurer, Elizabeth Dickson. Together with Program Committee Chairmen, Daiva Mongirdas and Artemis Scalleris, they planned an active year. The enthusiasm of the many members heightened the pleasure in the trips to Jordan Hall and Kresge Auditorium at M.I.T. to hear French choir singing. In December, a gay Christmas party was held with entertainment, refreshments, and prizes; much of the credit for its success goes to our advisor, Miss Parsons. Later on in the year, many of the members formed a theatre party and attended René Claire's classic, "A Nous la Liberté," compliments of the management of the Brattle Theatre. In the Spring, our activities included a trip to a French restaurant and a tour of the Fogg Museum.

For the first time in a number of years, the French Club members proudly sported membership pins, picturing the symbolic Fleur de Lis.

ITALIAN CLUB

In October, the members of the Italian Club held their first meeting. We were very happy to welcome Italian students, former members of the Club, and many new members.

At the November meeting, the students decided to have a Howling Party. A good time was had by all who attended this affair.

Our December meeting came in the form of a Christmas Party. At the party, a package was filled and decorated for the orphanage in Jamaica Plain. After the meeting, refreshments were served and the members joined in singing Christmas Carols in English and Italian.

A banquet was held in one of the best restaurants in Boston, in the month of February.

The following months proved to the members that without the guidance, advice, and full co-operation of Miss Supple, our advisor, and Mrs. Russell, the Italian Club could not have been successful. For this reason, we, the members of the Italian Club, wish to express our gratitude and appreciation to these wonderful and faithful teachers.

GERMAN CLUB

This has been a very successful year for the German Club. The officers: Gunter Vilbig, President; Robert Cleveland, Vice President; Daiva Mongirdas, Secretary; Jean Horne, Treasurer. Meetings, held once a month, were conducted according to parliamentary procedure. At these meetings there were musical programs, games, short lectures, and some times refreshments.

However, two activities which were enjoyed by all took place after school hours. One was a movie about Germany, Italy, France, and Switzerland, which was taken by one of the German Club members who had recently travelled in Europe. The other was our annual Christmas party, during which we devoured a cake made by Miss Wait.

We wish to thank Miss Wait, who was a fine advisor to us in all our projects.

GUNTER VILBIG

SPANISH CLUB

The start of the Spanish Club activities this year was a highly successful bowling party at the Austin Alley. William Elbery won the prize for high scorer on the boys' team, and Nancy Winn won the prize for high scorer on the girls' team. The highlight of the year's activities was the dinner party held at Cardullo's in Harvard Square. Nick Demos, president of the club, said grace in Spanish and then said a few words about the club. There were two dishes from which to pick: one, shrimp creole; the other, chicken con carne. Both were excellent.

Other officers present were: Elodia Fantauzzi, Vice President; Ann Marie Ferrick, Treasurer; George Darveris, Secretary; and Ellen Coady, Chairman of the Program Committee.

We wish to thank all the members of the Spanish Club for their faithful support this year which made the club the huge success it was. We especially would like to extend our sincere thanks to Miss Cox, whose tireless efforts as faculty advisor shall never be forgotten.

The Caps

In 1937 the first Future Nurses' Club was started in Illinois. Since then a few more clubs have begun every year in high schools throughout the country. The Club at C.H.L.S., called "The Caps," was formed this year with nearly 160 members. The title contains the initials of its founder, Carol Anne Pentz. The Club is under the efficient supervision of Miss Alice Ward. There are two groups, one for freshmen and sophomores; the other for juniors and seniors. Some of the girls went to the Massachusetts General Hospital, December 10, and to the Beth Israel Hospital, December 11. We were taken on a tour of both hospitals, and everyone who went enjoyed these visits very much. This club is for girls who plan to become nurses, and to encourage more girls to enter the field of nursing.

Key Club

The Key Club is the most recently formed club at C. H. L. S. The year began with the election of officers and organization of various committees. The officers elected were: President, Joseph Machado; Vice President, George Darveris; Secretary, Jeff Linahan; and Treasurer, Ron Peterson. During the first few months of the club's existence, the time was spent in organization with the able counsel of Mr. Herlihy, our faculty advisor, Mr. Sheehan, our headmaster, and Dr. Whoriskey, the Kiwanis Club representative and sponsor. During this period, we held several inter-club meetings with the co-operation of the members of the Rindge Key Club.

We were presented with our charter, bell and gavel, and flag by the Kiwanians of Cambridge at a special assembly on November 25, 1955, in the Cleveland Auditorium.

Our first major project was our volunteer work at Cambridge City Hospital. Each week, several boys were sent to the hospital and were assigned special duties. We also collected magazines to take to the hospital at regular intervals.

We held an appreciation banquet for the parents of members of the Key Club in April. This was planned as an inter-club project with the Key Club of Rindge. We also conducted a "car wash" at a local service station to raise money for a scholarship. We sold tickets with the proceeds going into a scholarship fund, which will be awarded to a graduating senior member of the Key Club.

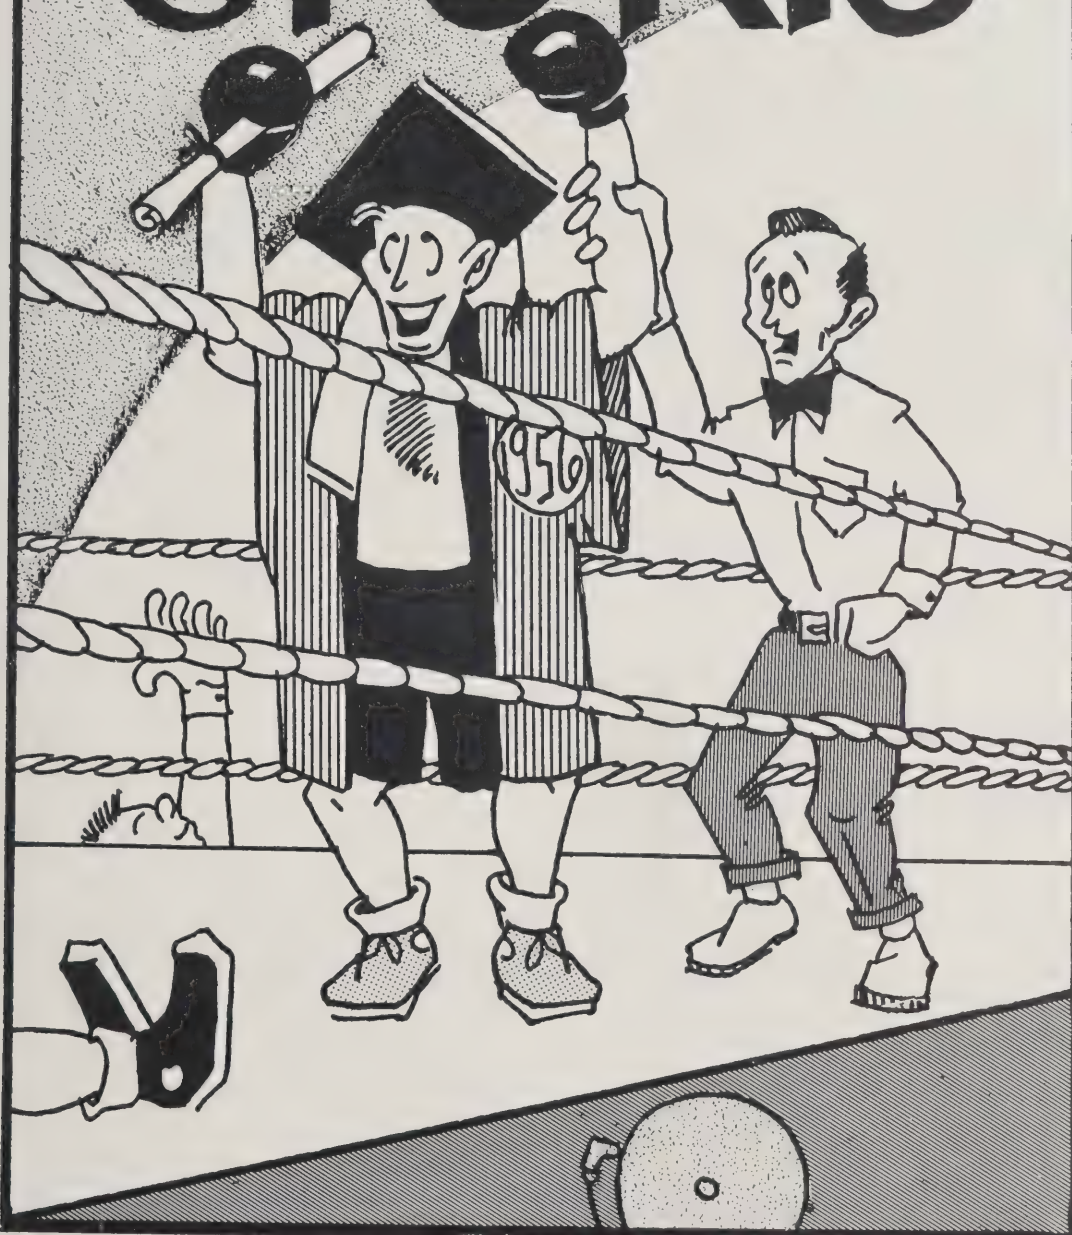

The Club sold pencils, imprinted with the school's name, to the student body to raise money for the treasury. We also sold boxes of soap to raise money. Now that the days of organization are over, the future Key Club members of C.H.L.S. can live up to its standards of service to the school and community.

Drill Team

The Drill Team, led by Captain Ann Savioli and her assistant, Kathryn Wheelock, had a very successful year. Miss George and Miss Hyde were of great assistance to the team as advisors.

Even in snow and icy temperatures, the Drill

Team performed with ease. The team marched at the Malden, Matignon, Watertown, Taunton, and Rindge football games and provided top entertainment during half-time.

Cheer Leaders

The cheerleaders completed another successful season under the leadership of their captain, Carole Smith. Come rain, snow, or shine, they were always cheering the team on at the football games.

Since Grace Crockett was unable to cheer this year, Nancy Petralia took her place as assistant Captain and did a fine job.

We take this opportunity to thank Miss Hyde and Miss George for their help in producing such a fine squad.

Girls' Varsity Basketball

The Varsity season ended with the number of victories overshadowing losses. In every game, the girls displayed fine sportsmanship and eager enthusiasm. Ann Savioli was elected Captain of the Senior Varsity, and Gertrude Dalpé and Priscilla Whalen skipped the Junior Varsity. Miss Hyde and Miss George did their usual fine job in coaching.

Senior Girls' Basketball

The senior team consisted of nine girls led by Captain Diane Buckley. They were victorious in all of their class games. The decisive victory over Belmont in the opening game of the season gave the team the confidence that they needed to finish on top.

Football

In spite of the excellent coaching by head coach Mr. Reardon, backfield coach Mr. Whalen, and line coach Mr. Culolias, and the leadership of captain Jim "Buck" Coady, the team was unfortunate this year and wound up with a record of two wins and six losses.

C.H.L.S. opened the season with a 13 to 12 loss to Melrose, but, the next week, the fighting "Red-men" defeated Taunton 19 to 7, following this win by losses to Belmont, 19 to 12, Matignon 14 to 7, Malden Catholic 32 to 6, Watertown, 33 to 6, and Punchard of Andover 7 to 0. The "Cantabs'" luck finally changed on Thanksgiving Day, when they defeated Rindge, for the second consecutive year, by a score of 13 to 6.

Our team was sparked by Captain Coady who made first-string right tackle on the Class "C" All-Scholastic Squad. Warren Sheehan and Jeff Linehan both made honorable mention on this All-Scholastic Squad. Other Senior lettermen were Nick Demos, Fred Dehmer, Louie Photopoulos, Jack Ryan, Jim Kennedy, George Kapsambelis, Pete Baccus, Ernie Lowe, John Ianelli, Ralph Chesney, Don Caroli, Ralph Sennott, Joe Roman, Tom Coady, Joe Curran and Bob Maciel.

Underclassmen who received letters were Billy Budryk, elected as next year's captain, Red Martin, Peter DeMont, Jimmy Cooper, Alvin Thompson, and Henry Ouillette.

Although, judging from the record, our team has not had a successful season, we shall never forget this year because of our victory over our rival, Rindge, and especially because of the people we've met and the friends we've made.

Hockey

Our Cantab hockey team, under the able coaching of Mr. Culhane, hasn't had a very successful season this year. Numerous injuries have hindered the team. Early in the season, Captain "Red" Martin received a broken arm and defenseman Jack Norton got hit in the eye with a puck.

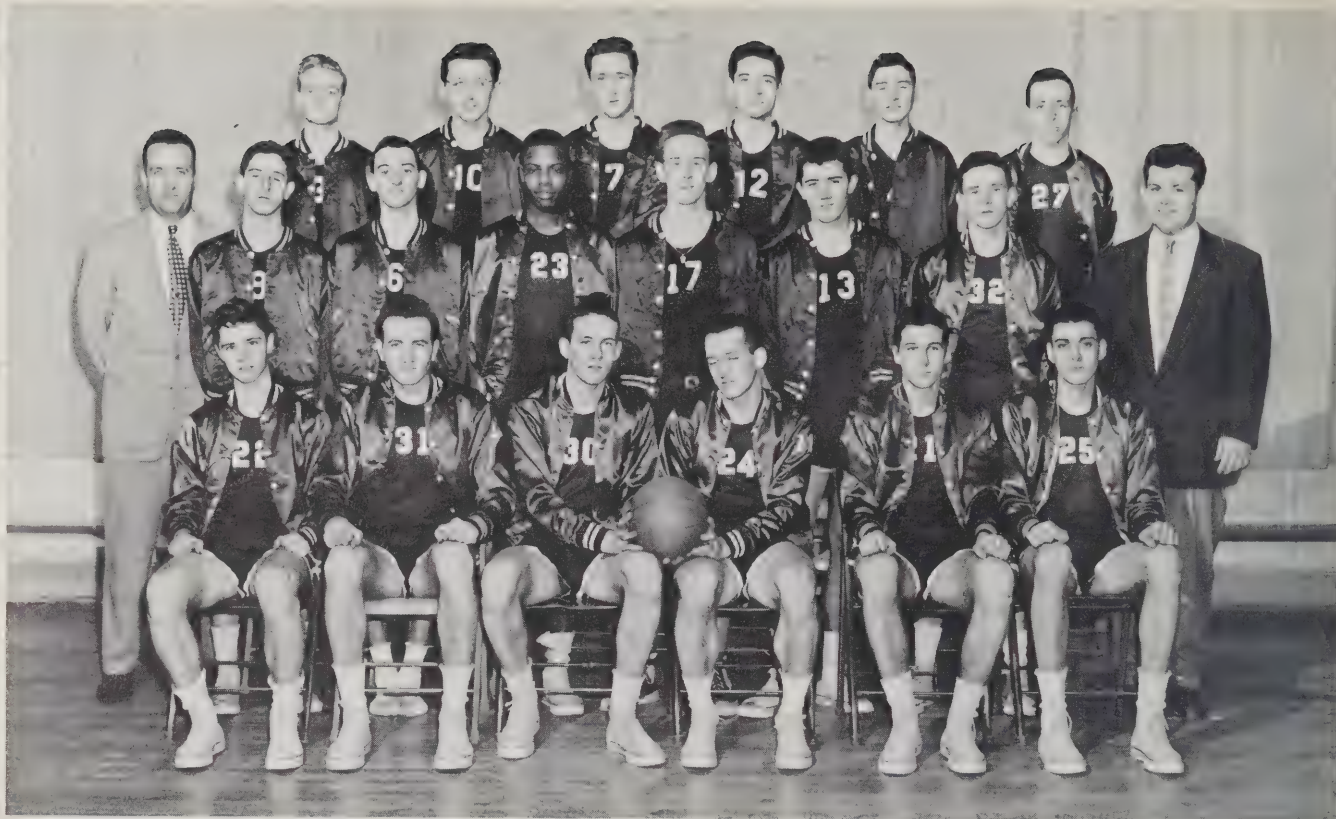

All of the players, who are mostly Sophomores and Juniors, will be returning next year with the exception of Ralph Chesney, a Senior, who has done a fine job tending goal.

Upholding the spirit that prevails over any C.H.L.S. squad, the hockey team is to be congratulated and we know that they will be skating into first place honors next year.

Basketball

Coach Joe Sheehan, beginning his second year of guiding the basketball team, started the season with only three of last year's varsity. The team made up for lack of experience with hustle, and opened the season by upsetting a strong Somerville team with a score of 57 to 55.

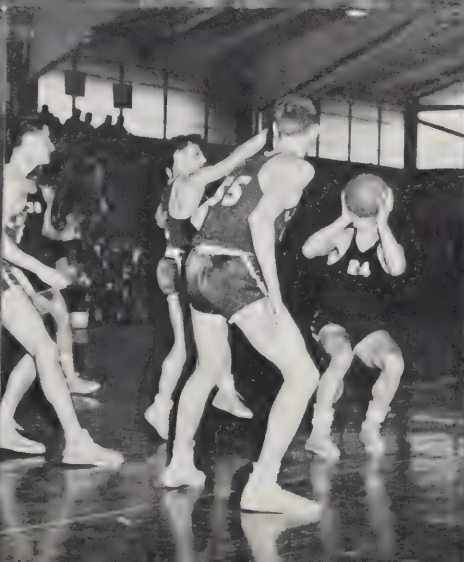

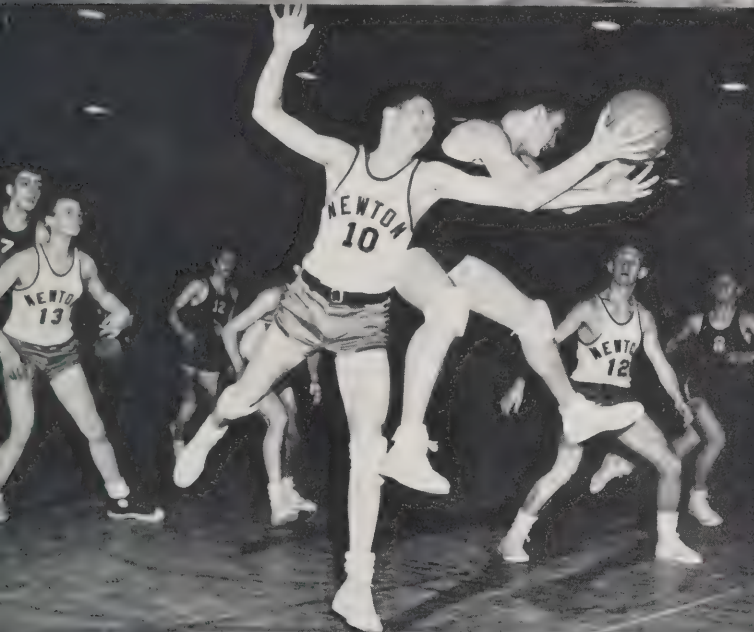

We led the Suburban League and reached the Tech

Tourney. The team consists of Co-captains Mike Tierney and Jeff Linehan, Ernie Lowe; Juniors, James Cooper and Dave Harrington; Sophomores, Jim Gnerre, James Keaton and Paul Solburg.

This season surely made basketball history for C.H.L.S.

ERNEST LOWE

First Row (Left to Right): T. Carmody, L. Photopoulos, F. Dehmer, E. Lowe, F. Vellivalli, J. Ryan, Captain; J. Corcoran, J. Cooper
Second Row: Coach J. V. Murphy, R. Cinelli, G. Daniels, A. Renna, T. Coady, R. Murphy, P. Mpontsikaris
Third Row: R. Medeiros, R. Condon, J. Valente, C. McNeill, J. Ianelli, A. Patterson

Track

The individuals on our track team have done well this year, although the team as a whole did not have a very impressive record. In the dash, Captain Jack Ryan and Louie Photopoulos won several races. In the three hundred, George Daniels won his heat in the B.A.A. meet at Boston Garden in the great time of 35.1. Ron Cinnelli and Peter Mpontsikaris did well in the thousand-yard run; both boys placed in meets with times well under 2:45. Jack Corcoran was the team's miler, and a much improved Tom Carmody was our hurdler. In the field events, we had Fred Dehmer at shotput and Jim Cooper at high jump. Our relay teams consisted of George Daniels, Jim Cooper, Jack Corcoran, Tom Coady, Lou Photopoulos, and Jack Ryan.

We've all had fun and tried our best and we wish next year's team the best of luck.

JOHN CORCORAN

Tennis

This year's team was very strong; and despite our difficult season, we finished fairly high in league standings. Co-captains were returning Senior lettermen Paul Mullen and Robert Maciel, along with Bill Elbery. Bill Conway, a sophomore, also received a letter last year. New prospects, Bill Cummings and Jim Sullivan, aided the team considerably.

With these great players and the fine coaching of Mr. Ronan, the season was surely a successful one.

ROBERT MACIEL

Golf

The Tennis Team lost many veterans; only three players remained from last year's team. They were Dave Sanderson, Alan Salus, and Jon Halberstadt. The new recruits, however, helped to make the team a fine one. Under the careful supervision and excellent coaching of Mr. Cohen, we did well in the Metropolitan League.

Baseball

This year's C.H.L.S. baseball team was very promising with a great many good sophomore players, mostly from the Pony League. Mr. Foley expected a lot of talent among these boys, and was not disappointed. We started the season against Newton, and finished against Waltham. The only letter men returning were Jim Coady, Ralph Chesney, Red Martin, John Tierney, Jeff Linehan, Dave Harrington, and Warren Sheehan.

WARREN SHEEHAN

Epilogue

The articles and pictures on the previous pages will always serve as vivid, living reminders of our never to be forgotten fun, friends, and happiness in four years at C. H. L. S.
